

Go to the LexisNexis Academic database via the Criss Library website. Look for the Research Tools column on the left side of the homepage and click into the All Databases A-Z directory:

Research Tools

Find Articles, Databases, & Journals

- Top Databases for Finding Articles
- All Databases A-Z
- All Journals A-Z

• LexisNexis Academic
News, Business, Law

Once connected to LexisNexis Academic, click into the Sources menu on the left side of the homepage and then click into the Find Sources template:

Sources

- » Browse Sources
- » Find Sources

Search for zacks as a source.

Find Sources Help

1. By Keyword Alphabet

2. Enter keywords and/or select categories to find matching sources

Keyword Find Sources

e.g., "New York Times" or Times New York

Click the check box to select Zacks Equity Research and then click OK-Continue

The screenshot shows a search configuration interface. On the left, there are filter options for Publication Type, Topics, Region of Coverage, Publication Languages, and Frequency of Update. Below these is a section titled "Select sources below to search" with a sub-header "1-3 of 3 Sources". Three sources are listed: "Consensus Earnings, Zacks Investment Research, Inc.", "Zacks Equity Research" (which is checked and circled in blue), and "Newstex Blogs". A blue arrow points from the checked box to the "Selected Sources" panel on the right. This panel shows "Zacks Equity Research" with a "Remove" link and a "Remove all" link. At the top right of the interface, there is a "Selected" status and a red "OK - Continue" button circled in blue.

Search for the name of a company in the search template. Note that Zacks is the source file.

The screenshot shows a search form. The "Search Terms:" field contains "Stanley" and is circled in blue. A red "Search" button is also circled in blue. Below this is the "Specify Date:" dropdown set to "All available dates". The "Add Index Terms:" section has a row of tabs: "Company", "Industry", "Subject", "Geography", and "People". The "Select Source:" section shows "Selected:" with "Zacks Equity Research (remove)" circled in blue. A "Clear Sources" link is visible to the right.

Search results:

Results
1.	TITLE: Morgan Stanley, Zacks Equity Research, September 5, 2013
2.	TITLE: Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group, Inc., Zacks Equity Research, August 22, 2013
3.	TITLE: Stanley Black & Decker Inc, Zacks Equity Research, August 1, 2013
4.	TITLE: Soapstone Networks Inc., Zacks Equity Research, July 3, 2009

Click title to retrieve the summary record and click the PDF link to retrieve the full report:

TITLE: Stanley Black & Decker Inc ▼

SUMMARY:

Stanley Black & Decker's earnings per share in the second quarter came in at $1.21, up 7.1% year over year and 1.7% above the Zacks Consensus Estimate. Revenues grew 11.8% on the back of solid organic revenue growth and contributions from acquisitions. Margins weakened as costs and expenses escalated. During the quarter, 60% stake in GQ Tools was acquired while a commercial lock deal was signed with Tong Lung. For 2013, management raised its organic revenue growth guidance expecting higher core businesses growth and benefits from organic growth initiatives. Higher margins are likely as growth investments subside in the second half of 2013. Further, increasing emerging markets exposure will help the company leverage benefits from the expected growth in tool and security industry in those regions. However, near-term concerns including higher negative foreign currency translation impact ($0.20 per share) and headwinds from higher interest and tax rates cannot be ignored. We thus maintain a Neutral recommendation.

Full text of report in PDF